

East Bay Community Law Center and ChoicePoint® Partner to Help Improve Criminal Record Accuracy
New pilot program helps consumers find and correct public record mistakes

Berkeley, Calif. – June 5, 2007 -- East Bay Community Law Center (EBCLC) today announced its partnership with ChoicePoint in support of a new pilot program to help ensure that criminal records are accurately and expeditiously recorded in local, county and state data repositories. EBCLC will assist in the correction of criminal record errors, then analyze those criminal records with errors to determine the source of the mistake and how best to permanently correct it.

“ChoicePoint is proud to support the East Bay Community Law Center’s Clean Slate Practice,” said Katherine Bryant, ChoicePoint vice president for consumer advocacy. “We believe in the mission of the program and the fundamental importance of increasing the overall accuracy of criminal records. Supporting the program was a natural fit for ChoicePoint.”

EBCLC is a community-based clinic affiliated with Boalt Hall School of Law (UC Berkeley) and its Clean Slate Practice serves as the primary provider of legal services and community education on criminal records remedies in Alameda County. The partnership’s goal is to increase the overall accuracy of criminal records in court, county and state public records repositories and serve as a leading voice for criminal records accuracy reform at the local, state and national level.

EBCLC’s Clean Slate Practice has assisted thousands of people to overcome the barriers imposed by their criminal records. “EBCLC is grateful to ChoicePoint for their support,” said Executive Director, Tirien Steinbach. “When our clients are able to move beyond their criminal records to productive employment, stable housing and full civic engagement, our entire community is safer and more secure.”

About East Bay Community Law Center

A core value of our society is equal access to justice. The complex nature of the legal system limits equal access, especially for people in poverty and those faced with language and cultural barriers. Well-trained legal advocates should be available to all people, regardless of economic status. To that end, EBCLC provides:

- desperately-needed legal services to the low-income community in the areas of housing, welfare, HIV & health, homelessness and economic development; and
- hands-on clinical education to law students to make these future lawyers aware of and skilled in addressing the needs of indigent communities.

Since its founding in 1988 by law students at UC Berkeley's Boalt Hall School of Law, EBCLC has become the largest provider of free legal services in the East Bay and a nationally-recognized poverty law clinic.

EBCLC's work makes the lives of East Bay community members more healthy, secure, productive, and hopeful. For more information about EBCLC, please go to www.ebclc.org.
