Why Do We Care About Student Loan Forgiveness at EBCLC?

Student Loans Are a Racial Justice Issue

- Black borrowers are overrepresented in having $40-$100,000 in student loan debt, but underrepresented in grad. programs.
- Black women have the highest student debt-to-income ratio during 1st year working post-grad but are most likely to be un or underemployed and underpaid.
- Latino borrowers have a default rate nearly double that of white borrowers—Black borrowers have nearly triple.
- 20 years after taking out their student loans, the median Black borrower still owes 95%, while the median white borrower has paid off 94%.

How Do We Assist at EBCLC?

- State policy advocacy in coalition with TICAS and CA legal service providers
- Federal policy advocacy in coalition with NCLC and other orgs
- Direct services to low-income clients:
  - Assisting with rehabilitating or consolidating defaulted loans
  - Applying for forgiveness through a variety of programs, including PSLF
  - Applying for IDR plans
  - Consulting re: discharge in bankruptcy
  - Defending lawsuits for defaulted private and federal student loans
  - Addressing student loan scams
What Loans Do I Have?

It’s complicated - loans are not always what you think.

➢ Visit studentaid.gov to check what kinds of federal loans you have.

➢ Visit annualcreditreport.com (free reports from the major 3 - TransUnion, Equifax, and Experian) to check your more recent private loans.

Private Loans DO NOT Qualify for PSLF

However, in many ways private loans function more like credit card and other consumer debt, with statutes of limitations and debt collection protections.

- One exception is bankruptcy, where discharge of both federal and private loans are limited.
- If you have any questions related to your private student loans, please feel free to reach out to our team: consumer@ebclc.org
What is Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF)?

A program designed to forgive the student loans of graduates who work for government or non-profit organizations.
What Are the Eligibility Requirements for PSLF?

To be eligible, you must:

1. Be enrolled in a qualifying repayment plan
2. Make 120 qualifying payments
3. Have a qualifying federal student loan
4. Work for a qualifying employer
5. Submit the employment certification form
PSLF’s Strict Requirements:

That Seems Like a Long Process - Is It Worth It?
Major (limited time!) Opportunity:

Until October 31, 2022 only:

The waiver counts payments made between 10/01/07 thru either 09/30/21 or 10/31/22 (made by full-time nonprofit /government employees) on:

1. Loans that were later consolidated
2. Ineligible loan types (like FFEL or Perkins Loans) (if first consolidated into a Direct Consolidation Loan)
3. Ineligible repayment plans, including a graduated or extended
4. Late payments or payments for less than the exact amount owed

<td>If you’ve never submitted a PSLF Form to document your employment, or if you’re missing documentation from certain periods, submit a new PSLF Form by October 31, 2022.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prior payments made while in a non-qualifying repayment plan will qualify.</td>
<td>All other borrowers who have already submitted PSLF Forms documenting their employment will be automatically evaluated for the waiver.</td>

What Is the Best Way to Get All Payments Counted?

Apply for any not-yet-certified (or denied) periods of qualifying employment before October 31!

➢ This is the only way to preserve payments that would normally not qualify (even if you are not yet ready to apply for forgiveness) under the waiver’s expanded qualifications.

➢ $0 suspended payments (COVID) count, but only if you submit employer verifications and meet all the other requirements (which you may need a waiver for).
Waiver Application Tips:

1. Download Records Now!
   - FedLoan Servicing, Navient, and Granite State Management & Resources are all ending their servicing contracts - download all payment records while you still have access.

2. Allow Time for Certification
   - Get started soon - you will need to have employment certifications signed by all qualifying employers to submit a timely application.

3. Allow Time for Consolidation
   - If have Perkins or FFEL loans you paid while in qualified employment, you must both finish consolidating them into a Direct Loan and submit a PSLF form before October 31 to count them!
Will There Be Long-Term Changes?

Who knows! Consider making public comment during the current negotiated rulemaking!
Individual Consults

In advance of your consult, please pull your studentaid.gov profile to determine what kinds of loans you have, for how much, and what the status is. The more information we have, the more we can assist you!

❖ Berkeley alum who qualify for LRAP should receive advice and counsel directly from the LRAP office lrap@law.berkeley.edu, as LRAP rules and requirements differ subtly from PSLF forgiveness and may impact your decisions.

❖ EBCLC staff and anyone who does not qualify for Berkeley’s LRAP can contact consumer@ebclc.org for an individual consultation.

❖ EBCLC staff can submit their employment form to the Deputy Director overseeing their unit (Jay or Rosa).
